Programs & Activities - Puerto de la Cruz, Spain

Programs

The interactive method of teaching based on learning by practice is applied at the school. This means that grammar is covered, but as much as possible taught using practical situations. Speaking and actively using the language is central to the continuous interaction between teacher and student. The school has refined the communicative teaching method continuously through years of experience and constantly evaluating and applying student suggestions.

Use of overhead projectors, video and other audiovisual materials complement the interactive method. Films and documentaries will also be screened, songs played and menus read. In addition, students will give talks and take part in role-play situations.

A successful implementation of the interactive method depends completely on the personal attention the teacher is able to give the student. A group never consists of more than 8 students. The makeup of the group is determined according to the student's abilities - ascertained from placement test results.

On the first Monday students are expected at school at 8.00 in the morning. Beginner level students start the lessons immediately. Students at higher Spanish levels will take an oral and written level test first in order to be classified at the right learning level. The lessons then start immediately afterwards.

Throughout the course, students will receive the didactic and study materials needed. The study materials have a support function and a large part is presented in the form of practical activities and exercises to facilitate understanding and speaking.
